

Project Assistant IVDR

DIAsource ImmunoAssays® SA is a Belgian company active in the in vitro diagnostic sector. Our medium-sized company (80 employees) is based in Louvain-la-Neuve near the University (UCL). We are specialized in the development, manufacturing and distribution of immunoassays for more than 30 years.

We are looking for a Project Assistant IVDR to strengthen our team.

Your mission :

IVDR refers to the European regulation CE 2017/746 on In vitro diagnostic devices. As an IVDR assistant, you will join the R&D and Innovation department and more precisely the team dedicated to the technical aspects of the implementation of this new European regulation. Your work will allow you to validate the analytical and clinical performances of our diagnostic kits.

Your duties:

- Analyse a large amount of scientific data (scientific articles, opinions of learned societies, etc.) ;
- Write documents summarizing the analysed data;
- Plan and organize daily work to ensure the smooth running of tests in the laboratory (internal and external orders for components and/or biological material, etc.);
- If necessary, be a support in the laboratory for the technicians;
- Analyse experimental results;
- Write reports and experimental protocols.

Your profile:

- You have a PhD in science (chemistry, biology, biomedical sciences, biotechnology, ...)
- You are orderly, able to manage priorities and have a good sense of planning (short and medium term);
- You appreciate teamwork and you don't mind working in an open space;
- You are flexible and adapt easily in a constantly changing environment;
- You are solution oriented;
- You are dynamic and willing to learn;
- You have good knowledge of English (writing scientific reports);
- Asset: you have experience in ELISA and/or RIA.

What we offer:

- A permanent contract ;
- An exciting and varied job in the "R&D Innovation" department;
- Work in a human-sized, dynamic, respectful and professional environment;
- A full-time position with daytime hours (5 days a week from Monday to Friday).
